

William “Bill” Samples is an interdisciplinary architect and general engineer and is currently a programs manager for the Post Engineer, DPW, Fort Richardson. He is also an ATFP subject matter expert [SME], consultant, and project manager for force protection projects for USARPAC, USARAK, and USAREUR. Prior to his current assignment he was the Lead Point of Contact for the Department of the Army, Office of the Provost Marshall General, Force Protection Systems Access Control Point Program [ACPP] for Europe and Alaska. He has authored many ATFP assessments, as well as doing extensive force protection designs now constructed in Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Italy.

Adjunct Instructor with the University of California Los Angeles teaching construction materials and methods, as well as a design studio for interior design.